DEDICATION

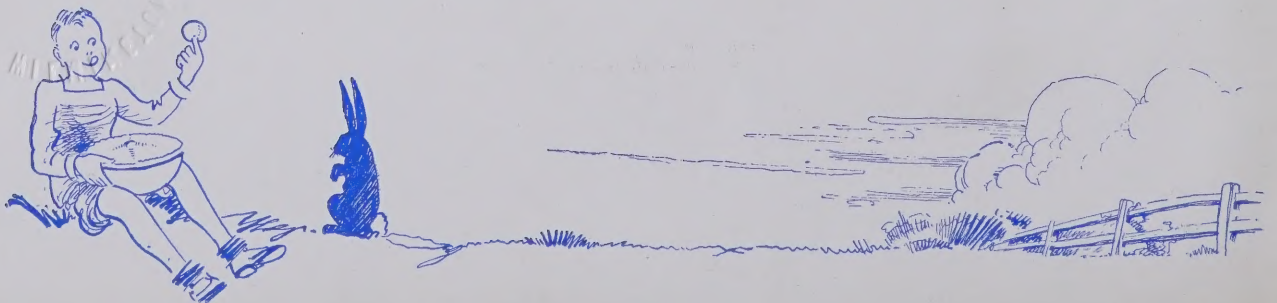

MISS ELIZABETH MONTGOMERY

MISS FANNIE CORBETT O'KEEF

*"And I heard a small voice calling,
'Come Up Higher, Come Up Higher.' "*

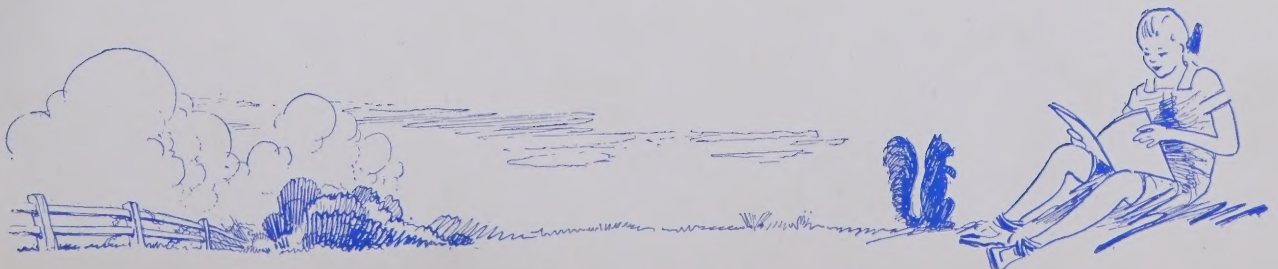

TO THOSE WHOSE GENTLE INFLUENCE PROVED A GUIDE TO OUR UNSTEADY FOOTSTEPS IN OUR EARLY DAYS, THE WARMTH OF WHOSE FRIENDSHIP BROUGHT REASSURANCE AND COURAGE, AND WHOSE PER-SONAL INTEREST AND EXAMPLE PROVIDED CONSTANT INSPIRA-TION, WE DEDICATE THIS VOLUME OF THE HANOVERIAN.

MR. THOMAS T. HAMILTON, JR.

"His heart was in his work, and the heart giveth grace unto every art."

CLASSES

CLASS OF 1940

We, the seniors of this class
Have chosen our careers:
We've planned our lives as we've seen fit
Through four delightful years.

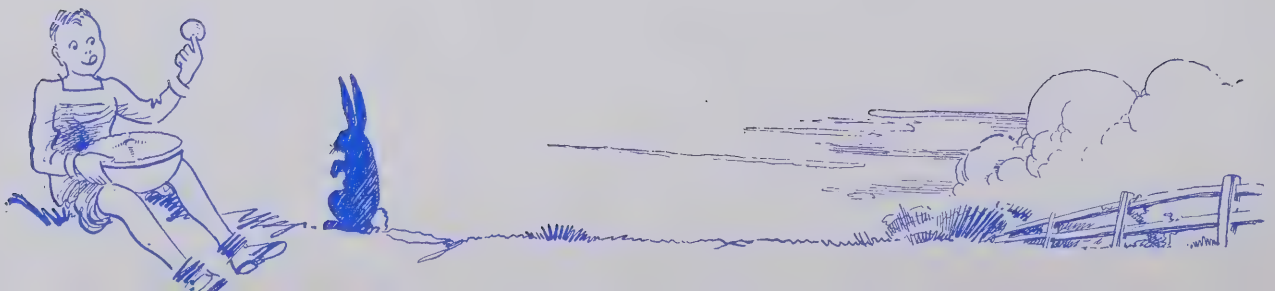

Together, as a group of friends
And loyally from day to day
We made this phrase our very own,
"Besides our work, there's time for play."

Learned teachers taught us much
And did their best to help us gain
The precious knowledge we possess,
But which we did not self-obtain.

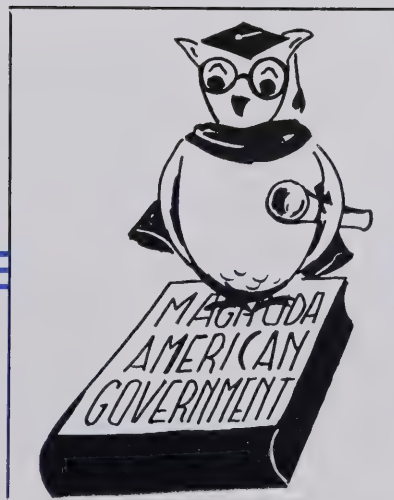

Glorious days must always end,
School days are no exception;
Teachers dear and faithful friends
We leave with grave dejection.

At last we are to graduate,
'Ere we go, we leave to all
Our motto which we've followed through
"United we stand: divided we fall."

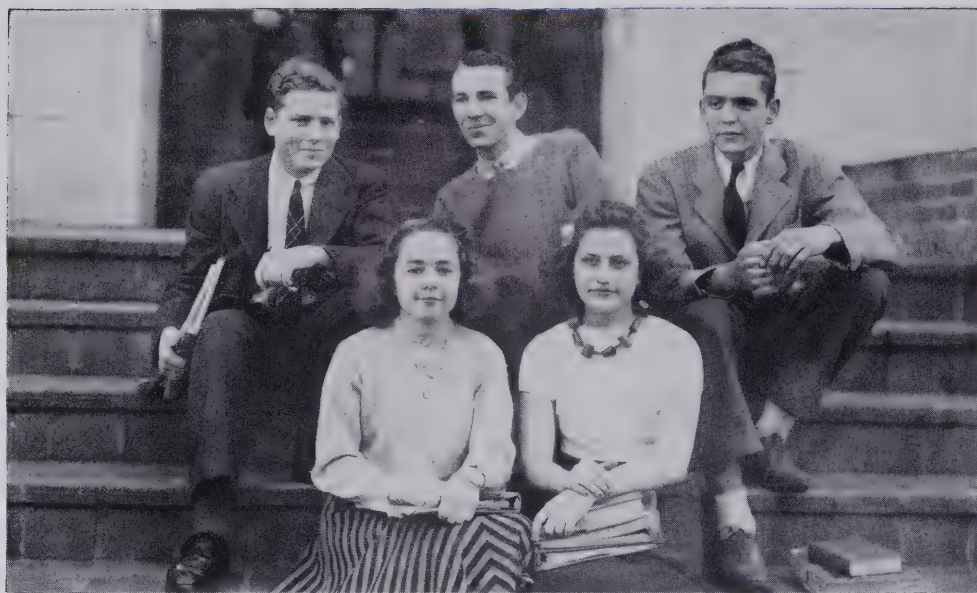

—HELEN MAZUR.

The HANOVERIAN

GLORIA VIOLA AINSWORTH

*Because of your charm and beauty, Gloria
Because of your sweetness, we all adore
You.*

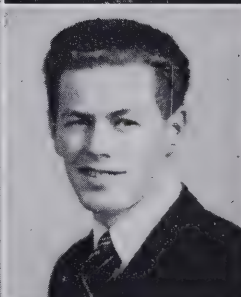

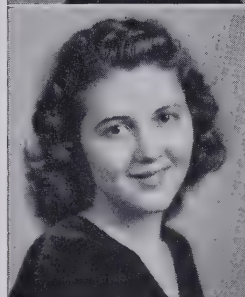

ALLISON M. ALDERMAN, JR.

*He's interesting and faithful, and also right meek
But it's really a problem to induce him
to speak.*

BIBLE CLUB

Officers:

GILLIAM HORTON, President
EUGENIA CRAFT, Vice-President
FLORENCE DAVIS, Secretary

Motto:

"We Would See Jesus."

Purpose:

This Club is open to all students who desire to know more about the Bible and its relation to life. Features of the Club's activities are: Prominent speakers on subjects as "Prayer," "Faith," "Building Christian Character," and discussions of personal problems such as "Friendship," "Choosing a Life's Work," and "Finding True Happiness." It is our desire to build Christian character using Jesus as our perfect example.

CLASS HISTORY

"He who knows not, and knows not that he knows not, is a Freshman."

It was with a feeling of mental blankness that we as Freshmen entered into the realm of higher education in September, 1936. But that which is full already cannot be filled, and the student who has attained scholastic perfection is wasting his time in school.

Principal T. T. Hamilton, who was to guide our destiny for the ensuing years comfortingly assured us that ere long we, too, would be "in the know." At that time we knew only awe and reverence for our principal, but since, we have learned to love and appreciate him.

A short while after our initiation into high school life, we showed our collective good judgment by electing for our officers Marion Woodbury, president, and Louise Hooper, vice-president. In our second class meeting we chose for class colors blue and white, and for a motto, "Our Strength Lies in Unity."

Through excessive good fortune (we must admit it was such) we attended a longer Freshman year than any class before us. This was the inaugural year of the supplement; and for nine months we pursued our studies.

At the close of the year we had learned at least one thing, respect for administration, faculty, Senior privileges, and, at great cost, the Judicial Committee.

Life is but a succession of growths. Though not always clearly defined at first, these periods may be easily distinguished. Thus it is with high school.

When we returned to our Sophomore year we were ready to clarify what we had learned in the first stage, and to use this knowledge in pursuit of further education. Our choice for officers was Louise Hooper, president, and Dick Cantwell, vice-president. Under their leadership we sponsored the first class dance, contributing the proceeds to the sinking fund. In the same year New Hanover High School was selected for the establishment of a Reserve Officers Training Corps, and many of our Sophomore boys "took up arms." A lot of credit is due them for the winning of honor school then. We concluded our Sophomore tutelage well represented in clubs, well organized, and high in scholastic achievement.

Conscientiously, we accepted the label of "Juniors." By now we realized that we were not mere disconnected machines, but that each of us was part of a huge enterprise, one that could by our support soar to heights hitherto unexplored, but would without our interest be a dismal, mocking failure. We had come thus far on a journey of shrouded destination; but now the sun came out, dispelled the mists of dubiousness, and our goal stood shining before us, bright, clear, unmissable.

The HANOVERIAN

With Warren Pennington president of our class and Sam Behrends to assist him as vice-president, we Juniors set out on a year of unsurpassed conquest. The Glee Club presented an operetta, "H. M. S. Pinafore," and the Junior class loaned a large share of talent to the melodious jubilee. Then in rapid sequence the Hi-Y Minstrel, the Junior Play, "A Crazy Mixup," and an unexcelled Junior-Senior Prom were staged. We were represented in goodly numbers on the athletic teams, the clubs, the Declamation Contest, and the Debating Team. To crown the accomplishments of the year, 19 Juniors were taken into the National Honor Society, which reflects well the studious nature of the class as a whole.

For three years we had prepared for a fourth, the latter a year of joy, merit, and of privilege. But privilege involves responsibility, and we were not unaware of our duty to ourselves and our school. We must have no let up in work; our privilege must make us even more capable. Where we had been merely running, keeping up, we must now sprint, put out that extra ounce of strength which is always reserved for the last lap.

Thus minded we walked for the first time up the Senior steps, in our legal right. The joyous feeling of having attained the hitherto unattainable was incomprehensible. Utterly unbounded was our pleasure, and we resolved to prove ourselves worthy of the faith of our underclassmen.

We feel that, as nearly as has been possible, we have done so. With the executive ability of Allan Strange, class president, and Vennon Hayes, his worthy assistant, we have kept our splendid record intact. The student council under the presidency of Jimmy Davis has revolutionized student government and activities; the "Wildcat" has climbed to the peak of school publication with Editor Sam Behrends; the "Hanoverian" broke all previous records for subscriptions, due especially to Isabel McIlwain and Adrian Rhodes. We presented that ghostly comedy, "Spooks." The Hi-Y Minstrel was a superb mixture of Negro dialect and Southern aristocracy; our R. O. T. C. was very skillfully commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Billy Holland; and all precipitated in the graduation of 375 students, graduation from High School, initiation into life.

The keen knife of the ages has hewn down the hours when we were all together. The dependence we manifested in one another must be translated into independence. Yet nothing can destroy the memories that linger on. As we live on they will grow fainter, yet that very faintness will add sweetness to the shadow.

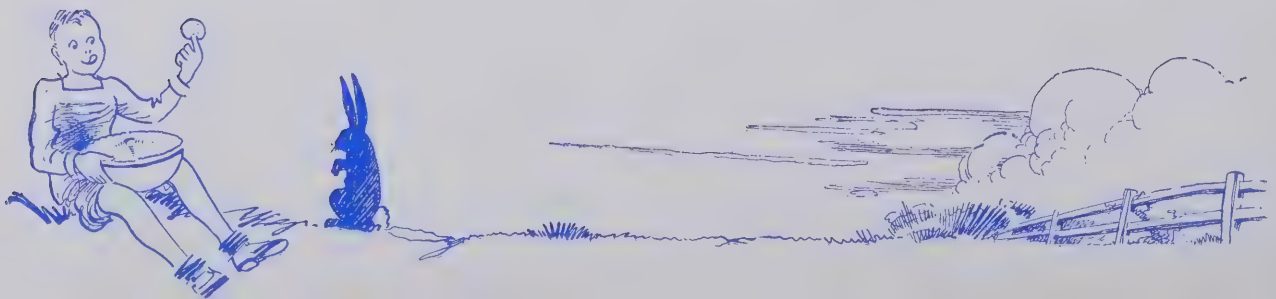

We have reached that once faraway goal. Even now life is at our feet. New paths are waiting to be explored. Some of them head to success and happiness; they are the hard ones. But the easy paths lead to disappointment, failure, misery. Written in the annals of time are our high school achievements. Will our future ones grace the pages of tomorrow?

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the 1940 Senior Class of New Hanover High School, singly and collectively do wish to make the following bequests:

We, the Senior Class, do hereby bequeath our intelligence to the Junior Class, hoping that they will prove to be "small quantity but good quality."

We, the Senior Class, do hereby bequeath our independence to the Sophomore Class, knowing that "you can always use a little more of what you already have in abundance."

We, the Senior Class, do hereby bequeath our progressiveness to the Freshman Class, realizing that they will have to use a lot of it to reach our present position.

I, ANN WHITE, leave my intellectual ability to TRUMAN MAGILL, knowing that he could use a little.

I, WARREN PENNINGTON, leave the Visual Ed. Department to ALEC BROWN.

I, HAZEL SMITH, leave my numerous boy friends to all the hopeless hopefuls.

I, GEORGE FOY, leave my craze for Student Council to J. A. WEST.

I, JEAN PARKER, leave my "OOMPH" to little sister.

I, SAM BEHREND, leave my editorial ability to the next editor of the "WILDCAT," knowing that he will make good use of it.

I, FLORENCE DAVIS, leave my cooperativeness to MARTHA HARTIS.

I, HOWARD MARTIN, leave my way with the ladies to TOMMY ATKINSON.

I, JANE LEWIS, leave my knack for politics to DEMMING SMITH.

We, JIMMY DAVIS and MARY KING, leave our perfect love to BUSSY WOODBURY and LOUISE EMERSON.

I, HORTENSE BROWN, leave my bashful ways to ELIZABETH WILLIAMS and SALLY PREVATT.

I, BYNUM SHAW, leave the School Store to JERROLD ROBINSON, hoping he can make back the money I lost.

I, ISABEL MCILWAIN, leave my versatility to ALICE NEWELL.

I, SANKEY BLANTON, leave my heart and hand to MISS JEAN BROWN.

I, ADELAIDE SCALES, leave my art of chewing gum to MISS STRUTHERS, hoping that she will make good use of my bequest.

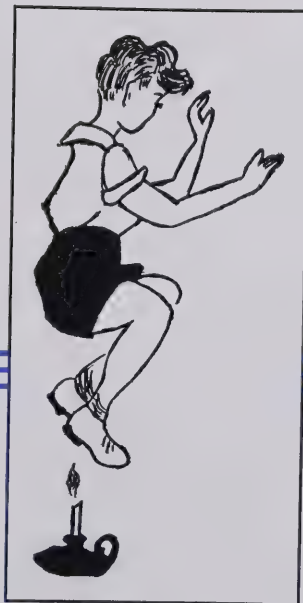

Witnesses:

ADRIAN RHODES,
EUGENIA CRAFT,
JOHN EVANS.
